The Seeker's Repentance

1

WARM UP QUESTION

Which is harder for most people: admitting they were wrong, asking for forgiveness, or making things right? Why?

2

SCRIPTURE QUESTIONS

Take turns reading this week's passage: Psalms 51 (entire chapter)

- What words does David use in vs 1-4 to describe his sin? What do his chosen words reveal about the seriousness with which he views it?
- In vs 4, David says, "Against You, You only, have I sinned." Others were deeply harmed by his actions, so what is David emphasizing about the nature of sin?
- Discuss David's prayer for Zion and Jerusalem in vs 18-19. What does the prayer reveal about his desires concerning the wider effects of his sin?

3

MEANING QUESTIONS

- How does remembering the backdrop of God's grace deepen our understanding of why sin is so serious?
- The sermon connects confession with trust rather than with fearful expectation of punishment. Discuss why these two must always go together.
- What does God's response to a "broken and contrite heart" reveal about His character? How is godly brokenness different from hopeless shame?

4

HEART QUESTIONS

- How is it helpful for you to recognize that sin betrays the One who has shown you abundant grace? How should that deeper recognition affect your repentance?
- Is there harm caused by your sin that you have been reluctant to face? What fear, discomfort, or self-protection has made that difficult?

5

ACTION STEPS

- As you confess sin, which truth about God's character or Christ's work will you deliberately trust?
- How can you make confession a regular act of returning to God rather than something you resist until the guilt becomes unbearable?
